

Acorn Update: Friday 8th March 2024

This week has been lots of fun and the Little Acorns have enjoyed lots of experiences. The week started with a visit from Henry, Miss Reeves tortoise. Miss Reeves told us all about the food Henry eats and where he lives. He does like chilling out under his heat lamp, but he also enjoyed meeting all the Little Acorns.

The children have been exploring measures this week (both inside and outside) and have been using the vocabulary 'long, longer, longest, short, shorter, shortest, tall, taller, tallest' to describe what they found.

The Little Acorns enjoyed celebrating world book day yesterday and seeing all the fabulous costumes. Some big children from Oak class came visited Acorn class to read stories, which was a real treat as the Little Acorns LOVE listening to stories!

Today we celebrated International Women's day with a special assembly and in the classroom we had a special think about our mummy's and how special they are. The Little Acorns have created a little something for Sunday (so check bags!)

Wishing you a Happy Mothering Sunday
