

Beech class weekly update 4.12.20

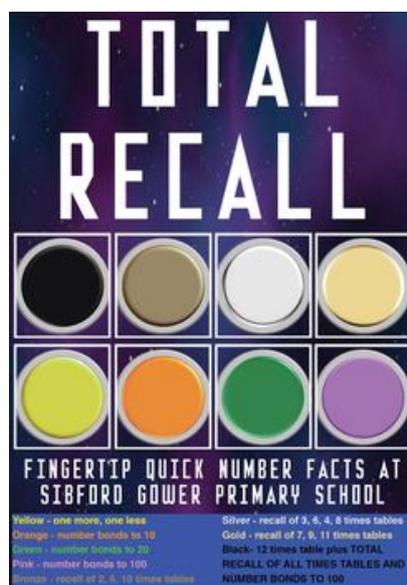

We have had another very busy week in Beech class where the children have once again given their all to a variety of different activities and tasks. It was wonderful to return on Wednesday and see them all again 'in real life'!

In maths we have been continuing to look at different coins and been developing our understanding of each coins value. We have also continued to learn about time and to use our mini clocks to practice representing different times starting with O'Clock and half past for some of year one and extending on to the nearest 5 minutes with some of year two. We have even been thinking about time difference and how it can be different times of the day in different parts of the world. This was prompted by some of the children talking about the times of day they facetime or skype friends and family from overseas.

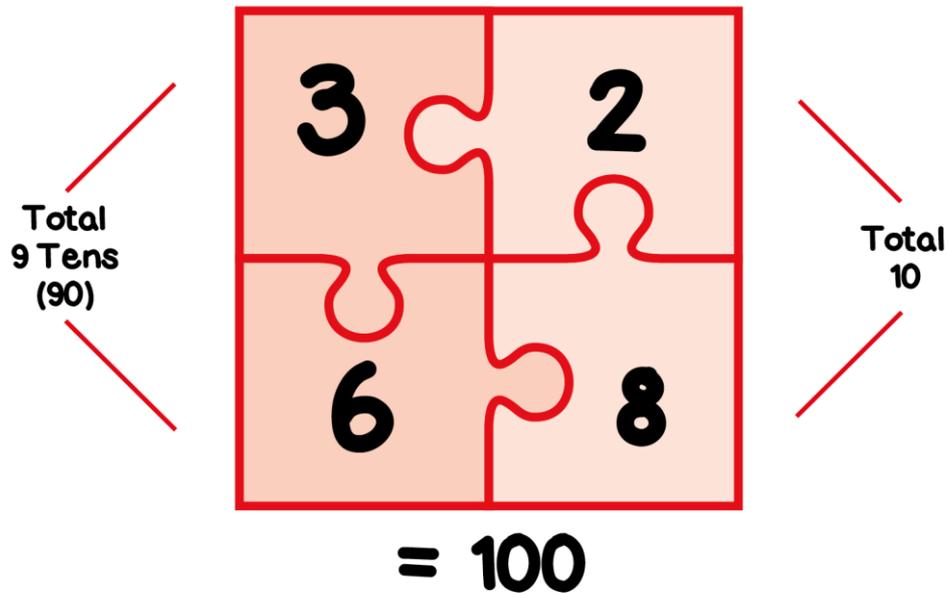

In English this week we have found out from our book what is the other side of the tunnel and been talking about how this strange wood might have been created.

We have also been very busy filming the nativity, this is a totally new experience for the children (and staff!) and they have done exceptionally well. We are all really looking forward to being able to share it with you soon.

This week the children have been working really hard to earn their total recall badges. You can find out all about these badges on the maths page of the school website <http://www.sibford-gower.oxon.sch.uk/maths.html> . Unfortunately we have run out of lots of badges in school so more are on now on order and we will be awarding badges in assembly on Monday 14th December. We have set the children a challenge to see how many of them can earn their next badge by then!

We have been using the jigsaw number concept to help the children to work towards their number bonds to 100 badge.

This week for homework alongside practicing for their next badge I have set the children a challenge on purple mash to design a poster for our virtual nativity.

We hope you all have lovely a weekend and look forward to seeing you again on Monday

An extra message from Mrs Coventry:

I just want to thank everyone for all their support over the past two weeks. I have a great time with the wonderful Beech class children (as I always do) but they have been so well behaved and understanding of all the changes. Thank you all again Emma Coventry
