

Beech Class Weekly Update

Friday 19th January 2024

Computing

During our computing session this week, we began our unit on pictograms. We discussed the meaning of the word 'data.' The children will be creating pictograms on Purple Mash in the coming weeks. This is something you could explore on Purple Mash at home.

History

We studied the life of Florence Nightingale. The children then compared the lives Nightingale and Seacole. This is something you could ask them about at home.

Maths

You will find a short note along with the math's homework this evening. I have set some simple calculations for the children to practise at home. This will really support them on their Mastery journey at school.

PE

We began our unit on 'Ball skills' this week. Although it was a chilly one outside, the children loved this session. We focused on the skill of 'dribbling.'

Our plan next week is to take more photos so we can share more visuals with you in the next weekly update. 😊

Reading

I am so impressed with the children in Beech Class. We are just 2 weeks into the spring term and already they are making great progress, especially with reading. Please carry this on at home! Have a lovely weekend,

Mrs. Oliveira.
