Good morning everyone!

Today it is Thursday 21st January 2021. Have a go at writing this. You will need to look on your 100 square as your number line only goes up to 20!

Topic: Science

Our science lessons for the next few weeks will be completing investigations from the Crest Award materials. I have uploaded a booklet of all the different lessons you can complete, which is on the Home learning page.

Today, we have suggested you do the activity entitled 'Be safe, be seen'. However, if you would like to choose a different activity today, then that is absolutely fine. Over the next few weeks, we have planned to complete 'Brilliant bubbles', 'Slippery slidey', and 'Music maker'
